LOCAL NEWS.

Geo. T. Peter returned from Indian Hot Springs last night, to spend the Fourth in Globe.

All the mining camps within a radius of twenty-five miles are represented in Globe today.

Mrs. G. F. Briggs has resumed dress-making, at her residence, where she will be pleased to see her patrons.

The Bisbee base ball team arrived last night. The Globe boys will give the champions a run for their money.

E. F. Kellner & Co. have shown excellent taste in the decoration of their window, in honor of our national holiday.

The fire has not dampened the patriotic ardor of Globe's citizens, and the Fourth will be celebrated with enthusiasm.

We regret to learn that three members of Geo. E. Shute's family, of upper Salt River are sick, threatened with typhoid fever.

The assessment roll was turned over to the board of supervisors on Monday. It carries $1,317,121.87, an increase over last year's roll of $53,000.

Mrs. G. F. Briggs, having returned from California, is now prepared to serve her patrons in the dressmaking line, at her residence on Cedar street.

Geo. H. Mosher, who represents Simmons Hardware Co., arrived Monday night. He finds Globe quite cool after coming from Phoenix where the thermometer registered 118 degrees.

Wm. Brodie of Payson, returned on Monday night from Indian Hot Springs, where he had been since the adjournment of court. He will probably remain here until after the Fourth.

Dr. Maisch who was called to Salt River to attend Gene Shute, returned Tuesday night. He found Gene quite ill with typhoid. Other members of the family who were sick, have recovered.

W. D. Claypool returned last Saturday from a visit to his former home in Bowling Green, Kentucky. His father, Dr. W. M. Claypool, and sister, Mrs. Geo. F. Wilson, will remain in Kentucky until fall.

Mrs. Geo. F. Briggs and sons returned from Los Angeles last Thursday, after an absence of nearly two months. They spent a portion of the time at Phoenix and Prescott, and enjoyed the trip greatly.

The recent visitation of fire should make everyone careful to guard against a repetition of the disaster today. The officers should be vigilant to prevent the explosion of fireworks in the business part of town.

The Old Dominion Commercial company's store windows are gorgeous with bunting and flags, artistically arranged. In the center of one window is the portrait of George Washington and in the other that of William McKinley.

Jeremiah Ahern, topographer, J. F. McBeth, travelman, and Chester Irwin, station assistant, of the U. S. geological survey, arrived from Clinton last week, to resume work on the Globe sheet. They will remain in this vicinity for some time.

Sheriff J. H. Thompson returned on Monday night from Yuma, where he delivered Jesus Mianos to the prison authorities. Mianos was convicted at the recent term of the district court, of aggravated assault, and received a sentence of two years.

Broad street truly presents a gala appearance, decorated as it is with a profusion of flags and bunting and lined with evergreens from the court house to the bridge. Some of the individual displays are elaborate but too numerous to mention singly.

Patrons of Pinal Mountain Water company are requested to use water sparingly, during the next few days, as it is desirable that the reservoir be kept full to guard against the contingency of fire which will be increased by the celebration of the Fourth.

G. S. Van Wagenen feels very grateful to Pioneer Hose company and to other citizens who rendered valuable services in trying to save his property, and in which they succeeded to a considerable extent. Mr. Van Wagenen requests us to convey his appreciation and thanks to them for their splendid work.

The display made by W. W. Brookner & Co. in their show window is both handsome and unique. The decorations are elaborate, and in the center is a large star dressed in the national colors, and on each of the seven points is an electric light, the lights being enclosed in colored globes. The star is driven by an electric motor, and as it revolves the effect is very pleasing. The exhibit is the creation of Miss May Cauley and Shirley Neffe.

The Good Templars will give an open entertainment at the M. E. church Monday night, July 8th, in honor of the Fiftieth year of the institution of the order. It will include speeches, songs, &c., and close by that comic farce, "Burglars," which always brings the house down. Everybody invited. Admission free.

Geo. D. Whittum, a prominent citizen of Stewart, Iowa, was here last week to enquire into the affairs of his late brother, S. B. Whittum. He found that the small estate left by his brother had been well taken care of, and expressed himself as being entirely satisfied with the manner in which it was being administered on by R. H. Egner.

The Order of the Eastern Star will attend divine services at St. Paul's M. E. church next Sunday evening, July 7, at 8:30 o'clock sharp. Seats will be reserved for members of the order. The lodge will meet at Masonic hall at 7:30 and will proceed to the church in regalia. The open and closing odes will be sung by the order, assisted by the choir, who will sing an anthem, and all will join in singing the hymns. The address will be upon "The Star in the East." Everybody invited.

N. H. Livingston was in town on Tuesday for a second lot of goods for his store, which he opened at his place on upper Salt river. He gave a housewarming in his new building last Friday night, which was attended by the people of the valley to the number of one hundred and fifty. Dancing was the order of the evening, and at eleven o'clock a fine supper was served. It was daylight Saturday morning when the guests dispersed, after wishing the host success in his business enterprise.

The celebration of the Fourth in Globe will be greatly enhanced by the fine dancing pavilion erected by private enterprise, in the park. The work of building the platform, which was begun last Friday, has been rushed to completion. It is 60x80 feet, constructed of matched flooring, and is by far the largest dancing floor that Globe has ever had. A music stand has been erected and benches provided to accommodate several hundred persons. The intention is to board up the sides and erect a canopy over the platform at an early date. When completed it will have cost upwards of $1,000. The Fourth of July exercises will take place on the platform, under the umbrageous shade of the cottonwoods. The speakers will occupy the music stand, and additional seats on the platform will be provided for the audience. In the afternoon and evening there will be dancing.

Deplorable Shooting.

A fatal shooting affray took place last Saturday evening on the railroad track opposite the cattle pens, in which both participants, Rafael Granada and Macario Vigil, Mexicans, were wounded and an innocent party and esteemed citizen, Jose Guarena, was fatally shot.

It seems that a grudge has existed between Granada and Vigil for two years, and the quarrel was renewed two days before the shooting. On Saturday when Vigil, who had charge of the pump in the railroad yard, quit work, he went over to Moody's store and procured a pistol, a 44 bull dog. He then sauntered up the railroad track, and sat down on the steps of one of the railroad company's cottages, and as it now appears, waited for Granada, although Vigil avers that he was waiting to see Mr. Freeman a railroad employ who was in the house.

Soon afterward Granada appeared with Guarena, coming up the track. Vigil met them and accosted Granada, and a few moments later both drew revolvers and fired. Vigil's aim was the better and the ball from his pistol struck Granada in the right hip, producing a flesh wound. Granada fired a second time without effect, and Vigil then caught hold of Guarena and used him as a shield. Granada then fired over Guarena's shoulder and the ball struck Vigil in the left side of the back ranging downward and coming out again, causing a flesh wound.

Granada fired again, and this time the ball struck Guarena in the back of the head, passing through the skull. Guarena fell and Vigil ran around the north end of the cattle pen, followed by Granada, who fired two more shots and then returned up the track and laid down near Guarena.

It was fully half an hour before the physicians arrived and examined the wounded men. Guarena was found to be badly wounded, and he and Granada were conveyed to the hospital and Vigil to the jail. Guarena lingered until Tuesday forenoon when he died. Granada improved and was removed to the jail Tuesday evening. The prisoners will have their hearing in a day or two.

Jose Guarena was an old resident of Globe, having come here with his family nearly twenty-five years ago. He was highly esteemed among the Mexican population, and was always an industrious and peaceable citizen. His funeral took place yesterday afternoon from the family home.

ODE.

Written by Donald Robb and delivered by him at the first Fourth of July celebration in Globe in 1878.

The sun shines down on this lovely scene

With genial and kindly ray,
And the rustling leaves and blades of grass
Are murmuring tunes all day.

With mirth, and glee, and song, and cheer
We'll make the air vibrate,
And our rifles will join in the chorus, too,

While the "Fourth" we celebrate.

We'll keep the day, though we have no hall
Whose pillars are laurel-twined;
Nor festooned flowers, nor golden shields

In harmony combined;
Nor martial music, nor rhetoric's gems
From orators full of fame;
But our hearts are true, and our faith is strong,

And we love the land the same.

A little cluster of provinces
Way back one hundred years,
Had won their freedom and carried their flag

Through carnage, and strife, and tears;
And the spirit that deified each man then
Is ardent out here today.

Though the altars from which their offerings rose
Are thousands of miles away.

That is the spirit that reached across
To the blue Pacific's strand,
That is the spirit that brings us here
To this wild Apache land,

And the flag is as safe in our hands today
As when it was first unfurled,
And its story went out to the hearts and homes
Of a tyranny-ridden world.

We honor the noble men who fought
So well in those early days;
And our voices go out on the summer air

In ringing peans of praise,
And we claim some meed of honor, too,

We men of the rough frontier
For we win for the land that gives us homes
An empire every year.

In the years to come when these hills will ring
With the music of sledge and drill,
And we who are lusty and strong today

Will be feeling life's winter's chill;
We will linger look over memory's page
With loving and tear-wet eye,

To the time when here in this mountain land
We kept our first Fourth of July.

The Los Angeles Auction company will close out the balance of their goods at cost. Some good things are still on hand.
